"A library outranks any other one thing a community can do to benefit its people. It is a never failing spring in the desert." Andrew Carnegie

PLANNED GIVING / DONATIONS

Do you use your local library? Do you consider the library and its programs are an important component to the community? Do you believe in volunteers working to benefit the library? If so, help ensure that the Friends of Crook County Library remains a vital civic asset for future generations of Crook County residents by leaving a legacy. Add your gift to the many others whose financial support has allowed the Library and FOL to maintain their tradition of excellent and free public service.

Help ensure the library's future and public services by including the Friends of Crook County Library in your estate and financial plans in one of following ways:

- Include the Friends in your estate plan; it's easy to make a bequest even if you already have a will.
- Consider designating the Friends as a beneficiary in your retirement plan, life insurance policy, and other financial accounts. It's a simple and tax-efficient way to fund your legacy.

You can designate the way your gift is used. One popular way to designate the funds is to the Friends of the Crook County Endowment Fund. Our endowment fund is with The Oregon Community Foundation; the donated funds are permanent (never to be spent) and the interest income is distributed biannually to the Friends where it is used for library programs. Your gift may also be designated to supplement the library's book budget, support a particular program, or given with no restrictions. Planned Gifts support the Library's vital services and programs for today and future generations. A short explanation is available at www.crooklib.org.

To designate the Friends as a beneficiary of your retirement plan, your insurance, or a bank or brokerage account, please note that the Friends full legal name, address, and Federal Tax Identification Number are:
