

Is My Load Considered Secure?

Not if it looks like the following.....

- Bulky items that are not completely contained within the sidewalls of the vehicle must be adequately strapped down.

- If material is being hauled in tied bags, it must be tarped if the bags extend above the sidewalls.

- If the tarp is too small, torn, or inadequately tied, the load is not considered secure.

- If loose material is being hauled in an open vehicle, the load must be tarped, even if it's below the sidewalls.
