Crossing Trails Resort (New application) public response : After Crossing Trails was originally approved a number of us collected enough signatures to put a measure on the county ballot for or against any more resorts. The citizens voted for no more resorts. Due to the fact that this is a new application, for a different type of so called resort, it should be treated as a new resort application and denied on that basis. The fact that our elected officials work and scheme to undermine their constituents by approving a development so devastating to their quality and way of life is truly disgusting. The original approval was misguided to say the least and now you have ample legal grounds to quash this thing. Placing huge housing developments in rural farm areas, at the very least, should require the developer to build new highway that would mitigate new hugely increased traffic issues. Those are worn out farm roads. I have little confidence that you are going to do the right thing here and it's a damned shame .
